CAMPUSFLOW

Chapter One: Introduction

Demonstration project - sample academic content

Background

Final-year projects need regular supervision and a clear record of progress. CampusFlow brings the student and assigned lecturer into a shared project workspace.

Objectives

Support topic approval, private uploads, version history, chapter review, feedback, extensions and departmental oversight.

Scope

This demonstration covers one student, one lecturer and a Computer Science project. The sample content illustrates the application workflow rather than reporting a participant study.